Celebrating the wines of Howard Park

Howard Park is a pioneering family-owned winery specialising in the premier regions of Margaret River and the Great Southern. Their vision is simple: an uncompromising commitment to quality, crafting wines that are expressive of their terroir.

Howard Park has always aspired to make wine with generational cellaring potential. Their first two wines – a Riesling and Cabernet Sauvignon – were produced by founder, John Wade, who saw enormous potential in the budding Great Southern wine region. Those two wines have stood the test of time and still form the backbone of the range today.

2017	howard park museum release riesling <sup>coravin</sup> great southern   wa	23 108

Now at a particularly captivating stage in its evolution, this wine's youthful exuberance has softened, making way for a rich and nuanced tapestry of aromas and flavors that only come with age. Citrus and pear, once vibrant, have faded, giving rise to a more developed display on the nose with verbena, honeycomb, and apricot coming to the forefront. The palate harmonises soft, supple texture, minerality, and fruit weight, all underpinned by balanced acidity and hints of yuzu, grapefruit pith and lemongrass.

2019	howard park scotsdale cab sauv <sup>coravin</sup> great southern   wa	23 108

Beneath lifted notes of cedary spice, graphite, and sweet earth lies a tantalising tapestry of opulent red and black fruits with undertones of black olive, dusty cocoa and freshly ground coffee. The fruit on the nose is gracefully mirrored on the palate, cradled by a supple tannin framework.
